

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

AMUSEMENTS.

LYDIA THOMPSON.

Nineteen years ago this winter, if we mistake not, the then innocent and inexperienced theatre-goers of Salt Lake were at once entranced and astonished on perceiving their very first out and out limb show; the company to induct them into the mysteries of that form of entertainment, went under the name, we believe, of Harry Beckett's British Blondes, and in the company Rose Massey, Adah Richmond and several others well remembered were the bright particular stars. The British Blondes were a part and parcel of the company playing at that time with Miss Lydia Thompson in New York, where they were all the rage in lion and other burlesques that depend for their attractions upon a liberal display of the human form divine. Lydia, in fact, he called the pioneer peeler, since she it was that gave to the world all its subsequent Evangelines, Adonises, Orpheuses and Eurydices, Penelopes and the others of the same strip—we should say stripe.

Nineteen years ago Miss Thompson may have been a creature of sufficient allurements to enable one to drive from his mind the baldness, and cheapness of a piece like Penelope; we do not doubt that she was, and that all that fame concerning her charms which has been handed down to us—we will not say by our fathers and mothers, but by our very much older brothers and sisters—was fully deserved; but nineteen years brings a good many changes, and it has brought them to Lydia along with the rest of us. To be perfectly frank she has no more business to be frisking about in tights and bare arms, singing in a voice that seems to be perpetually weeping at the memory of what it once was—than the Mother Superior of a convent would have. It was almost distasteful last night, to hear her sing; and those who had expected to see and hear something from the bearer of such a name, sat in awe and amazed silence. The applause was most meagre and forlorn. There is nothing striking about either the company or the costumes, though both might pass had we not seen them so completely eclipsed in Odouris and Evangeline lately; the piece is about as cheap, bold, unfunny and uninteresting as an amateur librettist could patch together, and as for the music, there was hardly so much even as an attempt to sing in two or three parts, to say nothing of an effort at the harmonies of a chorus. The best things were some high kicking by Miss Newham, the cigarette song of one of the gentlemen, and the ballad of Master Fritz James. Mr. Kenney as the King had a very funny make-up after Alley Sloper; the orchestra was very ragged. It is not pleasant to have to give so unsatisfactory a report of a company, which has come from all the way across the water, and which has apparently been fitted out with considerable expense to do America, but if Mr. Leavitt or whoever is back of it, has had so little experience with the public not to know that this sort of a show emphatically will not do, then he or that must expect to have to be told it in the plainest words.

The company appears again tonight, and the liberal display of limbs, we do not doubt, will serve to draw the denizens of parquette and gallery in good force.

THE "HERALD" DRAWING.

In Answer to Many Inquiries We Publish the Following:

The 1,250 prizes are to be limited to the "Semi-Weekly Herald" alone, and the number being so large everyone has an excellent chance. The drawing will be conducted publicly early in 1889, due notice being given in advance. The plan will be the simplest and fairest possible. Every premium receipt issued is numbered. A duplicate of every number issued is retained in this office. All these numbers will be placed in a box and a blindfolded child will be selected to draw them out. The first 1,250 numbers drawn will entitle the holders of the corresponding numbers to the prizes. The prizes will be numbered from 1 to 1,250, graded according to their value. Thus the city lot (value $200) is Prize No. 1. The Holstein bull (value $800) is Prize No. 2; the Kimball organ (value $110) is Prize No. 3, and so on down to the 1,250th. The first number drawn from the box entitles the holder of that number to Prize No. 1; the second to Prize No. 2; the third to Prize No. 3 etc. The drawing will be presided over by a committee chosen by holders of tickets. A record is carefully kept of all numbers issued, so that it can be ascertained once where the lucky holder resides.

REMEMBER, the Semi-Weekly Herald, ten pages, the brightest, largest and liveliest family paper in the west, goes with a chance in the drawing FREE—one year in advance only $5.00.

THAT DOUBLE HOLIDAY.

It Now Looks As Though It Would Obtain.

THE HERALD's suggestion of a couple of days ago that the merchants generally might find it to their interest and convenience to make a double holiday next week—closing the stores Saturday evening and opening again on Wednesday morning—caused considerable of a buzz. It was jumped at as a sweet morsel by the clerks, of course; but several of the superintendents and proprietors viewed the idea with anything but pleasure, and protested in language vigorous and unmistakable. It need not be said that the suggestion was made with the best of feeling for both employers and employed, the writer believing that if notice were given the public that the stores would be closed Monday, all necessary purchases would be made on Saturday, and thus free from the usual bustle and hurry consequent upon the close of the year would be given in which to take a breath of relief before turning over the new page. The banks were the first people approached. Mr. McCook, after a moment's deliberation, concluded that it would be a good thing. Mr. Hills was of the same opinion; the Bank of Salt Lake fell into line, and Mr. Doherty was both willing and anxious. The stumbling block, however, in the first chapter was the Union National, which it was claimed, being a United States is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmittou, Dickson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.

depository, could not close save upon Sundays and legal holidays. And so the situation stood last night. All four banks, however, averred that if the business houses closed they would put up their shutters anyway. A tour among the business houses gave some encouragement, and when roll was called last evening it was discovered that the following firms had signified their willingness to take the holiday, provided that the movement was anything like a general one: Cunningham & Co., Herdy & Young, Barnes, Lewis & Co., R. K. Thomas, Fred Simon, Wiscomb & Olson, Spencer Clawson, Co-operative, Watson and Machine Company. From Mr. Webber came the assurance that Z. C. M. L. would not stand in the way, and the Walker Bros. Company expressed themselves similarly.
